On Saturday, March 20, 2010, in the Cupertino Community Hall, a special reception with guest speaker, David Mas Masumoto and a panel of noted community experts will discuss the book, "In Defense of Food: An Eater's Manifesto" by Michael Pollan.

Cupertino adults and students in grades 9-12 are invited to participate in an Essay contest that leads into the March 20 Cupertino Silicon Valley Reads 2010 event.

The contest is based on a topic from 2010 Silicon Valley Reads Book Selection, "According to author Michael Pollan, the rise of 'nutritionism' has vastly complicated the lives of American eaters without doing anything for our health, except possibly to make it worse...". Pollan outlines the challenge and offers a straightforward manifesto – 'Eat food. Not too much. Mostly plants.'" How do you react, respond or interpret the author's position?

Flooding

Is your creek ready for winter storms? The Santa Clara Valley Water District (SCVWD) wants to know – before major floods occur. Log on to their website to report downed trees or other debris that may block stream flow and cause flooding. Report the potential blockages BEFORE it starts to rain to allow crews time to address all of the needs. Go to www.valleywater.org and click on “Access Valley Water”. The website also provides real time emergency information as well as stream and reservoir status.

The National Weather Service is available to answer questions and provide satellite and radar information for Cupertino. Go to weather.gov/SanFrancisco or access directions from your mobile phone at mobile.weather.gov

The public phone number for the National Weather Service is 831.656.1725

Information on building sandbag walls and other winter storm and holiday safety tips are available on the Cupertino website www.cupertino.org/emergency, click on “Links to Preparedness Resources”

Citywide Emergency Exercise Results

- Emergency telephone notification went out to the whole City at 9 am on October 17 to let everyone know that we were holding a two day exercise.
- Over 600 volunteers went door to door and distributed preparedness and environmental information to over 7,700 homes in 16 hours.
- Over 1700 volunteer hours were logged during the two days – with another 2000 hours for the planning efforts.
- If you did not receive the preparedness information in your neighborhood, we'll be happy to provide copies for you and your neighborhood.
- Teams of volunteers set up local Help/Information Centers, also known as Reporting Locations, or Arks (not an acronym). The community was invited to visit their local Ark to become familiar with its location and purpose. A map of Ark locations is on Cupertino website.
- Volunteer teams did an excellent job of resource tracking, communication and documentation!
- Thank you Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Tzu Chi Foundation, High School Service Clubs- Interact and Octagon, Community Emergency Response Team (CERT), Cupertino Amateur Radio Emergency Service (CARES) and their counterparts from other cities, Medical Reserve Corps (MRC), Block Leaders, Rotary, Target, AMC Theatres, Ranch 99 Market, Whole Foods, Cupertino Green at Home, and to the many individuals who offered their help distributing information.

Prepare your home.

During the holidays many of us plan to travel for days, and in some cases weeks. Before you leave for your trip, be sure to follow several steps towards securing your home.

- Close and lock all windows and doors.
- Set lights on an automated timer.
- Make sure to turn off all unnecessary appliances.
- Have a trusted friend or neighbor keep an eye out while you're away.
- If living in an apartment, keep valuables out of sight/away from windows.

Happy Holidays!

If you do only one thing to prepare this month...

GET YOUR FLU SHOTS!

Correction: Our November article suggested that candles are a good source of light during power outages. We should have included that they should be used only as a last resort. We live in earthquake country and, even during winter storms, the ground can shake, candles can fall over, etc. Keep a good supply of flashlights, batteries and light sticks available!

Upcoming Classes:

roots | Christmas Memories

by Gail Fretwell-Hugger

This past summer, our beloved Mother, Hazel Regnart Fretwell, passed away. She was 98 years old. I wanted to re-run this 1997 Roots story in memory of her and a vanishing era.

As a young girl, my mother remembers the annual trek her family made up Stevens Canyon Road to Table Mountain to select the family Christmas tree. After the “perfect” tree was chosen, it was hauled down the mountain in a horse-drawn wagon and decorated with popcorn strings and tinsel.

Grandmother (Anna Gagliasso Regnart) had some beautiful glass ornaments and the children were allowed to hang them on the tree under her careful supervision. Then the candleholders were placed on the tree, positioning each one so that it was not under another fir branch. Lastly, the candles were put in the holders and lit briefly on Christmas Eve. A bucket of water for emergencies was always next to the tree.

On Christmas Day, the candles were again lit for a short time.

Dinner was promptly at 2 pm; turkey raised on the ranch, home-grown vegetables, jello salad, rolls and home-made pies. The traditional family favorite for generations has been salted almonds and Mother’s day, the nuts were gathered in a mad race with the squirrels. Grandmother cooked and baked on a wood-burning stove in her small kitchen. She was an excellent cook and the stove was used through the 1950’s.

The children (Margaret, Hazel, Eva, Alice, Herbert and Donald) had to be patient about getting to the gifts under the tree. No whining, begging or fussing would hurry things. Mother’s baby brother, Donald, remembers climbing the hill with Herbert to Regnart Ridge and looking for holly branches and toyon berries to make wreaths and decorate the house. They also looked forward to their yearly treat of bananas, oranges and Brazil nuts at Christmas. Mother thinks that by today’s standards, she and her siblings would have been considered poor. They learned quite early there was no Santa Claus; that their parents provided the simple gifts when there was enough money. Even though Grandmother had spent some of her own school years in the convent, Mother recalls not knowing the true meaning of Christmas until she was a teenager.

As a child, I remember Christmas at Grandpa Bert and Grandma Annie’s old house as a very special time. Most of the uncles, aunts and cousins were there. The grownups sat at the long dining room table and all the younger children sat at card tables in the living room, which was heated only by a fireplace at one end. We dressed warmly! Mother almost always was in charge of all the little kids and didn’t get to eat with the rest of the grown-ups.

Grandma’s younger sister Ora and jolly uncle Chris Krietlich would often come down from the City after dinner. Uncle Chris would ceremoniously peel off dollar bills from a large roll in his pocket and give each child a dollar. We all felt very rich. After dinner cousin Bill Long played “Santa Claus” and picked out a gift for each child from under the tree. Every present was opened one at a time and exclaimed over - it was all done in an orderly fashion and greatly enjoyed by everyone. Bill often brought a piñata which was a huge hit with all the children.

Church Christmas Pageants played a big part in our lives when my sisters and were children. Bathrobes transformed into shepherd’s robes and the timeless carols wove in and out of the story of Christ’s birth as all the children tried hard to remember their lines and not trip over each other. Mom and Dad had a collection of old vinyl records that we played only at Christmas. The favorite was a dramatic rendition by Basil Rathbone of Charles Dickens’ “A Christmas Carol”. The cold and clanking ghosts of Christmas past, present and future came to life and we were so happy when at last Scrooge woke from his awful nightmare and had a change of heart towards Bob Cratchit and the townspeople. We listened to the story every year and if we weren’t too distracted by the sounds of the clanking chains and Scrooge’s pitiful wails, we could usually finish decorating our tree by the time Tiny Tim exclaimed, “God bless us, every one!”

Hazel would have been 99 on Dec. 29. We are so thankful for her long life with us, the rich memories and stories she shared with us and her undying love and care for us all.

» Recycling During the Holidays

Did you know we will create greater than 25% more waste during the holiday season than any other time throughout the year? This means an extra 25 million pounds of waste is generated between Thanksgiving and New Year's Day in the United States. By practicing simple, earth-friendly behaviors, we can significantly reduce the amount of garbage that is land filled during the festive season. Here are some recycling and garbage reminders:

Christmas Trees:

Christmas trees will be collected at homes in Cupertino on regular collection days during the month of January. Trees should be set out by 6 am, cut into 4-foot lengths, with all decorations and stands removed. Place trees in your tan yard waste cart or at the curb. Trees will be picked up at apartment and condominium complexes during the same period. Managers should call Los Altos Garbage Co. when the complex is ready for tree pick-up: 408.725.4020. Flocked trees are accepted for composting.

Corrugated Cardboard: Corrugated cardboard can be placed in the blue recycling cart or flattened and placed alongside your recycling cart. Residents living in apartments or condominiums should ask managers where cardboard is collected on-site. Boxes must be flattened and cut into 3-ft by 3-ft pieces. If desired, large quantities can be taken to the Sunnyvale Recycling Center at the north end of Borregas Ave. Call 408.752.8530.

Styrofoam: Blocks of styrofoam, placed in clear plastic bags, can be placed in your blue cart.

While Los Altos Garbage company does not accept Styrofoam "peanuts" for recycling, they are accepted at all UPS Stores. The closest stores are @ 20660 Stevens Creek Blvd. 408.213.219 and 1072 S. De Anza Blvd. 408.253.6561. Residents who have the new type of "peanuts" made of cornstarch, may stir them into a compost pile or a dirt area and dissolve them in water.

Wrapping paper: Gift wrapping paper can be included with other recycling at curbside. (Most apartment and condominium complexes have paper recycling in totes.) Plastic-coated and foil wrapping paper and ribbons and bows cannot be recycled.

No limit: Remember that there is no limit to the amount of recyclables that can be set out on your collection day. (Although, yard waste should only be set out in your yardwaste tote.) Extra recyclables can be placed in boxes and set next to the full cart.

Cans and bottles: Place a well-labeled recycling container next to trash containers at parties to make it easy for guests to recycle.

Produce Less Waste and Smart

Holiday Shopping: Avoid producing unnecessary waste that needs to be recycled or disposed of this holiday season. Make these practices part of your holiday routine:

- Give an experience and create a cherished memory, such as tickets to a movie, sporting event, stage play, restaurant, salon spa, manicure/pedicure. The choices are endless!
- Gift a gift to the environment such as a battery charger with rechargeable batteries, bus/light rail/train passes, live plants and gardening tools.
- Package gifts in reusable gift bags
- Bring your own reusable bags to the store

Be creative and have fun.
Have an environmentally
SMART and "Green"
Holiday Season!

Holiday Garbage Dates

Since Christmas and New Years Day fall on Friday, residential trash and recycling service has been rescheduled “a day behind” for the entire last week of Dec. and the first week of Jan. Regular Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday service will be provided, Friday service will be provided on Saturday.

Extra Holiday Trash?

On-Call Disposal Days: Residents (with garbage can service) are reminded that they have the option of using their two free On-Call Disposal Days for disposal of large amounts of trash. Schedule a Disposal Day by calling the Los Altos Garbage Company at 408.725.4020. For details, visit the city’s website at www.cupertino.org/environmental (click on Garbage) or call the garbage company.

Extra Bag Tags: Another option for residents who periodically generate extra garbage is “Extra Bag Tags.” Place extra trash in plastic trash bags and attach a tag to it where your garbage collector picks up. Fitness Tips by Shubha Bhargava

Each small step leads to a big goal. The rule for a healthy lifestyle is to be fit. We all want to be fit and eat right, we just don’t know where to start. Let’s start with the first step.

We all know that being physically active provides a number of long-term health benefits. It helps reduce the risk of heart disease and diabetes as well as helping to maintain weight and improve stamina. The US Surgeon General states that an adult should engage in physical activities (aerobic and strengthening) for at least 150 minutes per week. That comes out to 30 minutes per day, 5 days a week.

What to Do With Your Old Computer

If you received new computer equipment during the holidays and are wondering where to take your old computer:

- De Anza College Computer Scholarship Program – 408.864.5713, 21250 Stevens Creek Blvd. Accepting PC’s and laptops only: 750 MHz Pentium II or higher or have comparable Pentium-compatible CPU. Program refurbishes donated computers for qualifying students at De Anza or Foothill.
- City of Cupertino and Apple Computer’s free electronics recycling program: 408.862.2667. Mon, Wed., and Fri. 8-4:30. 10300 Bubb Rd.– Accepting all computer components and peripherals (PCs and Macs), fax machines, VCRs, stereo equipment, home copiers, DVD players and TVs. Bring proof of residency. The facility will be closed Dec. 24 through Jan. 1.

Junk Mail Kits

If your mailbox is becoming overwhelmed with holiday catalogs and solicitations that you don’t want, you can begin to reduce the flow of mail to your house by using a Junk Mail Reduction Kit. Find the kit on-line at www.stopjunkmail.org.

It’s not as difficult as it sounds. For some people it’s easier to take some time in the early morning before they become busy with their daily schedule. Some people like to work out in the evening after their commitments. So the first step is to find the right time for yourself. If it’s hard for you to find even 30 minutes at a stretch, divide your workout in 3 segments of 10 minutes each. An example would be a 10 minute brisk walk in the morning, 10 minute walk at lunchtime and 10 minute walk in the evening. Voila! You have achieved a day of physical activity.

That’s just a start. As you put aside just 30 minutes a day for 5 days a week, you’ll feel better and stronger inside and out.
