Angel Island with Tram Tour and United States Immigration Station Museum

Thursday, October 8 - 7:45am-5:45pm

Travel and explore with us as we go to Angel Island! Enjoy a lovely day on this historic island!

Whether you are a history buff, nature lover, or anything in between, this trip has something for you!

Enjoy an open tram tour around the island and learn more of the island history as a professionally produced audio history of Angel Island is played on the tram. The tram will stop at the Battery Ledyard to enjoy a beautiful view of the Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco, and Alcatraz. We will also get to go to the United States Immigration Station Museum where we will learn more of the historic significance of Angel Island. We will enjoy a delicious boxed at the island.

Angel Island is full of history and beauty. Starting around 2,000 years ago Coast Miwok indigenous people first occupied the island. In 1775, Spanish Lieutenant Juan Manuel de Ayala and crew discovered the island and called it "Isla de Los Angeles" (Angel Island). In 1863, Angel Island was used in the Civil War as a base in which they could protect San Francisco Bay. Then, it was used as a quarantine and immigration station in the early to mid-1900's. Many referred to Angel Island as Ellis Island of the West.
