

Climate Action in Your Neighborhood

We are reaching out to you to get your voice as a housing advocate or someone who lives in affordable housing. The City of Cupertino is creating a plan to address the changing climate and challenges our residents are facing. As part of this planning process, we want to hear from a diverse set of voices to ensure we are addressing the issues that are important to you. Your input will benefit our community members – especially those who may be especially impacted by climate change – and support our goals of housing equity, anti-displacement, and economic mobility.

We want to have an open discussion with you about subjects such as transportation, energy, waste, water, and community strength. We will discuss issues including those such as barriers faced regarding installing rooftop solar, buying an electric vehicle, or water conservation methods. No previous knowledge of topics is needed.

The virtual meeting will take place on September 30, 2021 from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. We are offering a $30 stipend for your time spent in the meeting. This will be a closed group meeting to help Cupertino become a more sustainable, healthy, and equitable city for you and future generations.
