

Intersection of Bubb Road and McClellan Road

HOW TO USE THE PEDESTRIAN SCAMBLE

A Pedestrian Scramble Traffic Signal Phase is when all traffic signals at an intersection turn red to allow pedestrians to cross any leg of the intersection

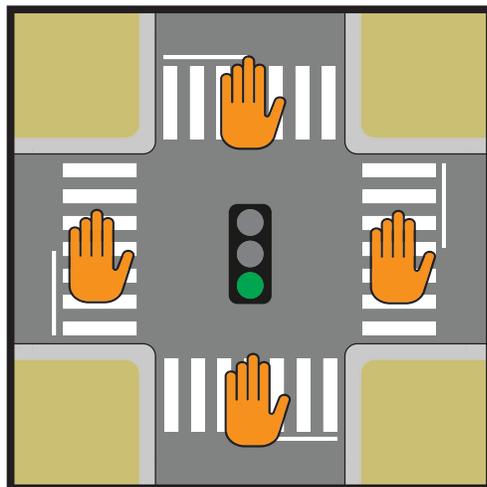

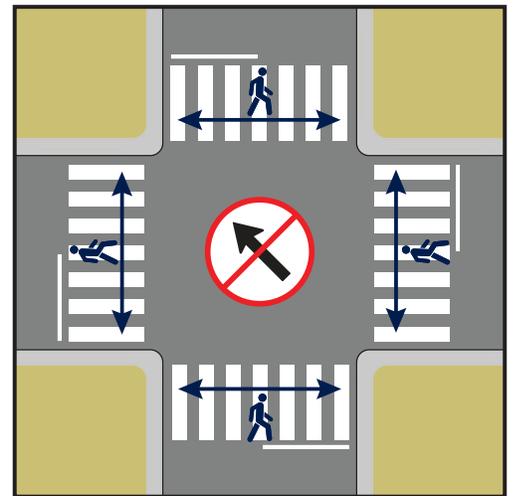

Separating vehicular and pedestrian traffic in this way will make the intersection safer and allow more vehicles through the intersections during a green light

Pedestrians should ONLY cross on a walk signal

Drivers will not be allowed to proceed or turn right on red

Pedestrians should not cross diagonally. The all-walk phase will be long enough to cross two legs of the crosswalk in one light

Pedestrians should WAIT on the sidewalk during a vehicle green light and  indication

Drivers may turn right freely during this signal phase
