

Leadership 95014

Now Recruiting for the 2016/17 Program!

Program Objective:

Leadership in today's economy and diverse community is more challenging than ever. Effective, visionary, creative and adaptable leaders are needed across sectors in small to large corporations, non-profit organizations, and government.

Leadership 95014 is for Cupertino's current and emerging adult leaders. Participants will:

- Gain an understanding of Cupertino's local economy and how it fits into the global and regional economy.
- Explore sustainable community development ranging from green practices to job creation.
- Learn how local government functions, the value of the social sector, and the importance of our educational institutions.

Combined with this overview of Cupertino will be practical leadership skills development through:

- Current and topical readings
- A self-assessment instrument
- Dynamic guest speakers
- Interactive exercises and projects

Participants will leave the program knowing one another better, understanding Cupertino and how one can have a positive impact on the community, and acquiring important leadership skills.

Program Tuition:

$850 – Early Bird Registration (Deadline – June 30, 2016)

$950 – Regular Registration (Deadline – August 30, 2016)

Tuition includes an innovative personal leadership component, taught by Minh Le of the Wilfred Jarvis Institute.

Morning refreshments and lunch are provided at each session.

Tuition is due upon acceptance to the program.

Flexible Payment Options are available.

Applications are available on-line at www.cupertino.org/leadership95014

Deadline to Apply is Friday, August 30, 2016

New Session begins September 7, 2016